SMOKING URCHINS.—The most disgusting creature, without exception, in the world, is the boy who smokes. We have never seen an urchin with a cigar between his youthful lips, or a quid rolled away in the recesses of his mouth, without becoming immediately impressed with the fact that we saw a cunning, ill-bred creature, and, in his smoking, a safe foreshadowing of a depraved and coarse man. A boy who can smoke ought to be able to endure unflinchingly innumerable floggings, and to swallow a few acres of tippecanoe with as much grace as he might roll over in his mouth the most toothsome and dainty of sugared bon-bons.—Lynchburg Republican.

Here is something for the boys who smoke: "A French physician has investigated the effect of smoking on thirty-eight boys, between the age of nine and fifteen, who were addicted to the habit. Twenty-seven presented distinct symptoms of nicotine poisoning. In twenty-two there were serious disorders of the circulation, indigestion, dullness of intellect, and a marked appetite for strong drinks; in three there was heart affection; eight decided deterioration of blood; in twelve there was frequent epistaxis; ten had disturbed sleep, and four had ulceration of the mucous membrane of the mouth."

LOST TWO WIVES.—Curiosity, laudable in its object, has done a grievous injury to a Missouri countryman, who went down to St. Louis the other day, to get a divorce from his wife. While walking to the court-room, he espied a huge sea turtle reposing upon its back in front of a restaurant, and allured by the sight, stopped to examine it thoroughly. Meanwhile his wife was at work for herself, and when finally he hurried on to the court-room, he learned to his dismay that the case had been decided against him, and his wife had obtained a divorce. He did not care so much about the loss of his wife, as he had engaged another in anticipation of getting a divorce himself; but as the wife had obtained a decree against him, he was by the law precluded from taking out himself another rib until the lapse of five years. He was almost frantic, as he had his wedding clothes already, and was to have been married the next day. His lawyer made a motion for a rehearing, and it was set for argument in two days. But the woman was again too smart for him, for she, too, had a husband in waiting, and as soon as the decree was announced, she went out and married her man, without stopping to examine the anatomy of a turtle, or any other fish.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER,
—AND—
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR IN BANKRUPTCY.
Congress having just amended the Bankruptcy law so that nearly all parties can be discharged from their debts, and reconstructed by the 8th per cent. clause, so-called, another opportunity offers to secure the benefits of this most effective and permanent measure of relief. The above-named will make bankrupt business a specialty; will procure discharges on the most moderate terms, and transact all business in that line at prices which cannot fail to be satisfactory. Being United States Commissioner he will endeavor to visit the different counties on court days, and thus save parties the trouble and expense of several trips to Alexandria in beginning and proceeding with their cases. Discharges can be obtained here before Register Hill as promptly as at Richmond or elsewhere, and at much less expense to parties. It may be added that the Bankruptcy act, in connection with the Homestead exemption, which is now being enforced, is the only real relief now offered to parties struggling in the hopeless bondage of old debts.
